Previous year best performing products saw dramatic sales drops or even complete sales loss. Overall slight increase in Price was seen. Yet the discount increased slightly over the year but the effect not seen on the sales. And after observing closely on the product level found that discount compared to previous year was very low or very high. And similarly some best performing products prices have been increased compared to the previous year and due to which customers are moving to other stores. We have lost about 94% of the customers. We need to revise our price and discount strategies.
